THE STORY OF THE PINEHURST CLUB

The Pinehurst Club™ was inaugurated in 2008 by a group of business leaders, who wanted to ensure that future generations of children in developing countries would have access to the comforts of a bedkit provided through the charitable efforts of Sleeping Children Around the World (SCAW). The first Pinehurst Club Breakfast was held in 2009.

Since 1970, SCAW has distributed over 1.7 million bedkits in 36 different developing countries. Through the generosity of our donors, 54,000 bedkits were given to children in 2023. That's 54,000 more children in Bangladesh, Honduras, Kenya, the Philippines, Rwanda, Sri Lanka and Tanzania who are sleeping better and dreaming big with their new bedkits. We are thankful for all our supporters who make this magic happen, and we are looking forward to expanding our impact in 2024.

Many generous supporters of The Pinehurst Club meet once a year at a breakfast to honour the work of Sleeping Children Around the World. It is at this event that the business community, volunteers, donors, and special guests share time together to raise awareness and needed funds for the Legacy Fund of Sleeping Children Around the World.

It is significant to understand that Sleeping Children Around the World has covered all of its administrative costs through the Legacy Fund established by the organization's founder, the late Murray Dryden. This fund was created from the proceeds of the sale of three Christmas tree properties and the investment income earned has made it possible for 100% of all bedkit donations to directly benefit the children. Funds raised at The Pinehurst Club Breakfast will strengthen the Legacy Fund and ensure the long-term viability of Sleeping Children Around the World, and allow the charity to retain its unique status as "The 100% Charity™."

The Pinehurst Club takes its name from the street address of Murray's home and preserves the memory of the Christmas tree farms. The Dryden home on Pinehurst Crescent, Toronto, has been donated to the charity and is the centre of all the activities of Sleeping Children Around the World.

Our Ambassadors from the business community are passionate about providing a child with a good night's sleep. We are grateful for their devotion of time, efforts, and finances to ensure the success of The Pinehurst Club Breakfast.

"It is every child's right to have a peaceful night's sleep."

We thank the generous sponsors of the 2024 Pinehurst Club Breakfast:
